6. Assign a Max. Domestic Shipping Rate.

This number is the maximum you would want your end consumer to pay for domestic shipping. This isn't the amount they would pay for shipping, but just a cutoff. Bongo will grab the total domestic shipping cost within the order and use that. Most customers choose $1,000 as an arbitrary number.

HTTP POST Notification is a message service that notifies you of events related to Checkout transactions. You can use it to automate back-office and administrative functions, mainly in the fulfillment of orders, customers status and other information related to a transaction.

To implement HTTP POST Notification you first need to provide a callback URL (which we invoke via POST), and build the procedure for processing the call.
